BAPTIST ORGANIZATIONS

Three From Kentucky To Meet At Jellico, Tenn., November 15.

On November 15 and 16, at Jellico, Tenn., will be held the Kentucky ministers' meeting of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists. Baptist ministers from all parts of the State will be in attendance, and the following program has been prepared:
Monday evening at 7:30 the devotional exercises, conducted by the Rev. J. E. Baird; 7:45, organization and appointment of committees; 8, a paper by Rev. C. W. Eisey on "Fellowship With Christ's Sufferings," and a sermon by Rev. W. W. Horner, of Louisville.

The second session will be held Tuesday afternoon with the following program: At 2 o'clock, devotional exercises led by Rev. W. L. Shearer; 2:15, an address by Rev. T. C. Ecton, "Preparing for a Revival;" 2:45, an address by Rev. S. P. Martin, "Conducting a Revival;" 3:15, an address by Rev. W. L. Brock, "Following a Revival;" 3:45, business and adjournment.

Beginning on Tuesday and lasting through Thursday morning the seventeenth annual session of the General Association of Kentucky Baptists will also be held at Jellico.

At the same time the annual meeting of the Women's Baptist Missionary Union of Kentucky will be held.

HOLD GOOD PRACTICE.

The students of the day and night High Schools held a joint basketball practice at the Maysville High School gymnasium Tuesday evening. Coach C. S. Dale was more than pleased with the playing of both teams and promises to give the basketball fans of this city some of the best basketball this season ever seen in this vicinity.

E. L. Dix will deliver a stereoscopic lecture on "The Consolidation of Rural Schools," at the Washington Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. All who are interested please be present.

Basket Ball Notes

M. H. S. ANNOUNCES OFFICIAL BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.

Coach Dale, Student Manager J. Ed. Parker, Jr., and Faculty Manager Prof. G. C. Mance, have given to the public the official schedule of the Maysville High School boys' basketball team for the season of 1915-16. The schedule is as follows:

November 12—Maysville High School at Maysville.
November 19—Maysville Night High School at Maysville.
November 26—Maysville High School at Maysville.
December 5—Open.
December 12—Carlisle High School at Carlisle.
December 19—Fort Thomas High School at Maysville.
December 24—Carlisle High School at Maysville.
December 28—Alumni at Maysville.
January 7—Cattlettsburg High School at Maysville.
January 14—Fort Thomas High School at Fort Thomas.
January 15—Open.
January 21—Open.
January 28—Open.
February 5—Ashland High School at Maysville.
February 12—Ashland High School at Ashland.
February 13—Cattlettsburg High School at Cattlettsburg.

The open dates have been asked for, but as yet the schools asking for games have not signed contracts and the games are not assured. The lovers of the game should be delighted with the schedule arranged by the management of the High School, as it assures them some of the classiest basketball games seen in this city in years.

TEST CAR PASSES THROUGH MAYSVILLE.
A Studebaker test car passed through this city on its way to Louisville Tuesday afternoon. The car was one of a hundred Studebaker automobiles that are competing in an endurance test all over the country. The machine left Louisville Tuesday morning early and made the trip to this city in record time, using only the "high" gear. The following gentlemen were in the party that passed through this city: W. N. Redneau, of the Louisville Herald; H. C. Trounman, official timekeeper; Edward Carney, of the Bywater-Ortner Motor Company, under whose auspices the Kentucky test is being made; George Kindrich, Jr., driver, and A. Trounman. After stopping off at the Central Hotel, the party went on their way toward Louisville, expecting to get into the Falls City by nightfall.

THE MAGICIANS THURSDAY NIGHT.

The Tottens will be on your High School Lyceum Course Thursday night at the auditorium, and will give an entertainment of wonderful dexterity, magical handcraft and humorous impersonations. Mr. Totten has appeared all over the country in these roles with eminent success as is evidenced by the complimentary recommendations of the press throughout the Middle West.
If you have not gotten your reserved seats, do so, as you will want to get close enough to see through the "tricks of the trade."
Everybody else is coming, why not you?

THANKSGIVING TURKEYS WANTED.

Until further notice we will pay 15 cents per pound for all fat turkeys delivered here. Bring them in now, as we are ready to receive them in any quantity.

REPUBLICANS DO NOT CONCEDE THE ELECTION OF STANLEY

Chairman Galvin and Headquarters Wait For Results of Lawsuits and Official State Canvass—G. O. P. Will Not Stand For Dishonesty

Louisville, Ky., November 9.—There is no change in the Governorship race so far as the Republican headquarters is concerned.

Chairman Galvin and his associates are simply waiting for the termination of the law suits brought in different counties and the final counting of the returns by the State Board of Election Commissioners.

Chairman Galvin has not conceded the election of Stanley and will not do so until every means of procuring a fair count of all of the disputed ballots has been exhausted.

There are suits pending in McCreary, on, Daviess and Johnson counties, all instituted by the Republicans for the purpose of having a lot of Morrow votes counted as they were cast.

In McCreary county, there are charges of irregularities on the part of the Republican election officers, but the Republican State committee will very quickly disprove anything which is not legal in McCreary county or any other county. The Republican State committee wants nothing for Morrow which does not belong to him, but it insists that nothing will be left undown to count every ballot to which he is apparently entitled. It is not anticipated, however, that there will be a contest before the Legislature.

There has been a great deal of unfavorable comment caused by the action of the Democrats at Paducah yesterday in refusing to permit one of the three Democrats named to serve as judge in the suit brought by the Republicans to compel the counting of some 125 disputed ballots believed to be for Morrow.

The official returns have not yet been received from Daviess, McCreary and Laurel counties.

MARKING TIME IN THE PADUCAH CASE.

Paducah, Ky., November 9.—Attorneys for both Democrats and Republicans involved in the contest in McCreary county, are making time while they are waiting to hear from Governor McCreary, who was appealed to, to appoint a special judge in the case after the Democrats had rejected three attorneys and Judge Reed had refused to preside.

STANLEY CLAIMS 346.

Louisville, Ky., November 9.—Completion of the count in Louisville and Jefferson county, giving Stanley a majority here of 4,063, makes all counties officially heard from except McCreary and Daviess, where contests are still in progress, and Laurel, where the official count has not been returned, and gives Stanley a majority of 346.

Hart county's vote was certified this morning when the missing precinct was counted and Morrow's majority in that county reduced from 222 to 203, a clerical error being found.

Should the Republicans win all contests instituted, Stanley would still have a majority of 195, unless some radical changes are made in the vote in Laurel, where the highest Republican claims of a majority have not been in excess of 86, more than the minimum Democratic claims.

CHIEF OF POLICE

Race Growing Warm—Several Candidates In the Field—All Have Good Backing.

The Chief of Police race is getting quite warm, and the new Commission are being importuned to consider the merits of each candidate's claims as put forth by his friends.

Chief James Mackey, the present incumbent, is a candidate for re-election and stands a pretty good show to pluck the plum. He has been a faithful officer, having served as Chief of Police for the last two years. His record is above reproach, and stands out clear in a fearless and impartial manner and has made good, as evidenced by his work.

Policeman Dudley Pizer is also mentioned as a candidate for the office. "Dud" has made an excellent policeman and would make a splendid chief, no doubt.

Mr. Mike Donovan is also mentioned for the position of chief. He has previously served in this capacity, and the people all know his ability.

Next comes Harry A. Orr, former Chief of Police. Harry filled the office for two terms, and is known by almost every child and child in Maysville. His splendid record is known to all.

The race is on, and the Council will have a hard time in electing a chief from such a "bunch" of good material. Any of these gentlemen will make good officers.

HON. R. B. LOVEL

Suddenly Summoned Tuesday Night—Death Comes As He Was Preparing To Retire.

A gloom was cast over the entire city Tuesday night when the Death Angel entered the home of Hon. R. B. Lovel about the hour of 10 and snatched the head of the house.

Mr. Lovel had been in his usual health and had just returned home from a moving picture show, and was making his preparations for retiring for the night.

He had stepped into the bathroom to wash his hands and not returning as quickly as his wife thought he should, she stepped to the door and found him cold in the embrace of Death.

Had Mr. Lovel lived until December 31 he would have been 79 years old. Born in Lewis county in 1836, he was twice honored by his native county. He served it as sheriff and senator.

His children were also born in Lewis county. He came to Maysville thirty-six years ago and entered in business at his present location. He also engaged in steamboating in the early 'seventies.

R. B. Lovel's name always stood for integrity and fairness in his dealings with his fellowmen and associations in business. No worthy business enterprise ever received discouragement from him.

In his religious life he was an exemplary man, a consistent member of the Central Presbyterian church. No worthy object of charity ever received the cold hand from Mr. Lovel. His time and money were always ready to alleviate sorrow and suffering.

His wife and son, Lee, who might be said to have always been associated with him in business, and the following grandchildren, survive him: Mrs. Irma C. Hennecamp, of Cincinnati, O.; Robert L. Slims, of Chicago, and Robert B. Lovel, Jr., Martha Stanley, John Charles, Nancy Lee Lovel and Lovel Samuels, all of this city.

The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

INSANE WOMAN TAKEN TO ASYLUM.

On Tuesday, Guard W. J. Campbell, of the Kentucky State Insane Asylum at Lexington, arrived in Maysville and took Lillian Brockmire, colored, back to that institution for safe keeping. The Breckenridge woman was paroled from the asylum a few months ago and returned to her home in this city. For a time she was rational, but of late she has been acting queerly, and at the request of her father, was again taken into custody.

SUITS AND COATS

Luxurious is the one word to describe them. Each garment is marked by careful finish, smart style, quality fabrics, by all the things a woman likes. Mr. Hunt is still in New York where he is in daily touch with our greatest fashion center, so you are assured of advanced styles in every garment we offer.

Suits of poplin, serge, Gabardine and broadcloth in Bolling green, navy black and African brown. Some have snappy youthful short jackets, others are in Russian effects with full skirted coats. Both styles are equally correct—it is merely a matter of personal taste. Price $12 1/2 to $35.

Coats cover a wide range of fabrics and colors, including plush, poplin, serge, Gabardine corduroy and Scotch mixtures cut on the newest lines and handsomely tailored. Prices $7 1/2 to $35.

Charming New Blouses

Plaids and plain colors, crepe de chine, Georgette combinations and lace all just arrived from New York within the week. We have a wonderful stock, comprehensive enough to suit all tastes and purses. Tidy blouses $1 to $2. Silks $1 to $6.

BRAINS AND HANDS.

Everybody has brains and most everybody has hands, and the two combined should chase the wolf from any door.

A few people begin life by working with their hands and as opportunity presents they throw their brains into the fray and make a success in their chosen vocation.

Later we speak of them as self made men.

Others start life with their hands, never use anything but their hands, and die as they began.

And we speak of them as failures.

Now why can't everybody in this town use their brains as their hands?

Begin today to concentrate your thoughts upon performing your labors just a little better than you did yesterday, and each day strive to move upward on the ladder of efficiency.

When you do this you will find your boss behind and pushing you about as energetically as you are climbing. Through your efforts and his you will soon reach the top, and when the proper opportunity arrives you will become somebody else's boss.

You will then be fairly launched upon your career, and a careful exercise of the brain and a liberal use of your hands will lead you on to success in life.

Brains without hands seldom accomplish much, and hands without brains will most assuredly never startle the world.

Brains and hands should work together and in complete harmony.

Together they will surmount the obstacles in life's pathway, but singly they will skate through existence on the fringe of adversity.

Many young boys are growing up in this town whose future is yet to be carved out. If taught the proper use of their brain power while young they will become self made men of the future. If allowed to drift along until they arrive at man's estate they will find greater use for the hand than for the brain. They may not become failures, but at best they will simply be cogs in the machinery of better men.

Start your boy right and he will travel the rest of the way on his own mettle.

GET A FLAG.

In this day of agitation on the subject of national preparedness one of the simplest and most practical steps to take would be for each family to keep an American flag where the children can see it from day to day.

Then teach the children that the flag of their country means more to them than life itself, that it must be handled with care, and looked up to and revered as the symbol of liberty and the champion of right, justice and humanity.

It is difficult to instill ideas of patriotism into the heads of present day adults who have been reared in an atmosphere of growing indifference, but ours will be a better nation fifty years hence if we today but perform even a fraction of our duty to our offspring and to our country.

If newspaper reports are to be credited, looting the bodies of dead and wounded soldiers seems to be a favorite pastime of all armies in Europe. Truly this war is developing the brute side of humanity.

Champ Clark recently joined a posse to prevent the lynching of a man charged with murder. But when the Underwood tariff mob applied lynch-law to American industries, Champ held the rope.

A snub writer informs us that "a square deal is as broad as it is long." Which may possibly be true, but nevertheless some alleged "square deals" might be darned thin.

Bringing another suit against the Shoe Machinery Co. is the administration's method of showing up in its protests of friendliness to business.

WHEELS AND COMMUNITIES.

When a spoke in a wheel is broken that wheel is weakened and only of partial or slight value to the rest of the vehicle. The wheel itself is of no greater value than its weakest spot, the broken wheel. Its usefulness must be restored until the wheel is repaired and placed on a par with the other wheels. Then it is again ready to assume its proper functions in the scheme of life.

And as it is with the wheel and the wagon, so it is with the citizen and the community. The latter is only as strong as the loyalty of the former. The community will advance only in accordance with the loyalty and progressiveness of its people.

The man who forgets his home merchants and sends his money to outside sources is the broken wheel of his own community. He is the weak spot that retards the growth of all that produces commercial stagnation, that creates local hard times, and reduces the community that shelters him and the people who feed him to the level of a hand to mouth existence.

We don't want any broken wheels in this community; we don't want any useless vehicles, or commercial disintegration, or hand to mouth existence; we don't want any poverty or distress.

But we do want prosperity and progressiveness, and happiness and contentment, and full harvests and dinner pails, and we can have them if each one of us will do our duty to the town in which we live and trade with home people and keep our own money in our own community.

We want to "keep prosperity in this town," and we can only do by "trading where we live."

Personally, we intend to practice what we preach in this respect, for the good of the community, for your good, and for our own good, and we would dearly love to see you trailing right along by our side and we are quite expecting to see you doing it because we don't think we are one whit more loyal to this town than you are.

Come along, brother. When we all pull in the same harness we make a mighty strong team.

The Secretary of the Navy tempered justice with mercy in the case of some of the Annapolis midshipmen who were implicated in the recent haze at the Naval Academy. Among the spared monuments of Josephus' grace may be found the son of the Governor of North Carolina and the son of Admiral Burson, who succeeded Admiral Fiske as aid for operations when the latter's habit of letting the truth about the navy become known proved too irritating to Josephus.

Mr. McAdoo is not the only man who wants to hitch an appropriation to the defense scheme and his plan for government owned ships is to be yoked up also with $50,000,000 for rivers and harbors, according to the latest reports.

Fun—Well Done

The Bad Egg.

A magazine editor was talking about the late Charles Battelle Loomis.

"His departure leaves this world less gay," said the editor. "He was a humorist. He looked at every subject from the humorous point of view."

"I remember once, on the failure of a financier of somewhat doubtful repute, I said to Loomis: 'He was a bad egg, but nobody seemed to think so as long as he had money.'"

"Naturally," replied Loomis; "for, like most bad eggs, he was all right until he was broke."

EDITORIAL SIDELIGHTS

LET HIM COUGH UP

Everybody wants to see better country roads around here, and those who live off of the community should do their share toward its upkeep, either through local taxation or by voluntary contribution.

Our local business men have dug down into their pockets every year for taxes, and then they have dug down again and again for all sorts of lovable objects in the way of contributions to this, that and whatnot, and they will probably continue to dig as long as they remain in business.

Like the good old Jersey cow, they have been "milked" so long and often and for such varied purposes that "digging" has become almost second nature to them.

But there is one man who is ROLLING IN WEALTH that has been gathered in from the rural districts, and that man has yet to make his first dig. At any rate no one appears to have ever heard of him contributing a single penny for the alleviation of local conditions.

He is the MAIL ORDER MAN, and it is high time for him to dig.

Many of you have been sending him your money for these many years, depleting the financial condition of your home community in order that he and his many ride in expensive automobiles and wear rich furs, lace and diamonds.

He counts his wealth by the millions, all contributed by his "dear friends" from the country districts. A few hundreds to him would be but a drop in the bucket, yet it would mean much to you if expended in improving the roads that you must travel in earning your daily bread.

Now suppose each one of you good people who have been handing your hard earned money over to the mail order man in the past just write him a letter and tell him your roads are sadly in need of repairs. Just tell him that when the rains come the mud is deep and traffic is difficult, and it is hard for you to earn the golden dollars that go to swell the great wealth he can never spend.

Tell him that you have been his friend in the past. Now ask him to prove his mettle by becoming your friend in the present, with a few hundreds for better roads.

Ask him to "dig," and dig deeply. If he is your friend—if he cares a rap for you—HE WILL DIG. But if he thinks only of what he can squeeze out of you, HE WON'T DIG.

Write him today, and see if he digs. But in the meantime, just remember that responsible merchants are advertising in this paper today and other days, and that they will duplicate the goods sold by the digless mail order man QUALITY FOR QUALITY and DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR—and save you the freight or express.

Show your loyalty by SUPPORTING THE DEALER WHO SUPPORTS YOU AND YOURS.

"We have written to Montgomery, Ward & Company and to Sears, Roebuck & Company, of Chicago, calling their attention to the condition of the road south of town and asking for contributions to help repair it. These firms enjoy a large trade in this territory, and as they do not pay any taxes, they will no doubt, cheerfully make a substantial cash contribution for such a worthy cause."—Ashland Independent.

MAIL TAKES THREE YEARS

Registered Letter Ends Its Long Jaunt Around the Country With Twenty-Three Postmarks.

Los Angeles, Cal.—A registered letter mailed three years ago from Vancouver by J. A. Fitzsimmons to D. C. Kling, Oceanside, Oceanside, Mex., was received in Long Beach.

Twenty-three postmarks on the letter showed the trail of its travels. From Vancouver to Mexico and back it went. The second time the letter was received in Mexico, Postmaster Gomez directed it to Los Angeles.

Finally it reached its destination at Long Beach.

The sender, Mr. Fitzsimmons, happened to be in Los Angeles and was notified by Kling that the letter mailed in Vancouver three years ago had "arrived safely."

COURT MAKES QUEER ORDER

Robber Gains Two Years' Parole on Condition He Repays Cost of His Trial.

Houghton, Mich.—John Spelch has been released from the county jail for two years' probation on one of the queerest orders known here. Spelch was given his freedom by Judge O'Brien on condition that he repay within two years the costs of his capture and his trial.

Spelch stole $1,000 from a taxpot belonging to Mrs. John Messner, a widow. The money was the life insurance of her husband. All of the cash was recovered and the woman did not want to prosecute.

He will return to the widow and work for her.

AT 79 BEATS FEAR OF TRAIN

Town's Oldest Pioneer Lives Near Railroad Forty Years Without Taking Ride.

Knoxville, Ia.—Joseph Fee, seventy-nine years old, the oldest pioneer of Knoxville, where he has lived since 1849, has just taken his first ride on a railroad train, going to Tracy, a 14-mile trip.

Mr. Fee has lived within a mile of the railroad for 40 years, a branch line passing through his land. But he has always had a peculiar dread of "the cars."

A few years ago his friends threatened to rope the old man and take him to the state fair. They abandoned the plan when he so vehemently declared he would kill every man in the crowd if such a thing was ever attempted.

SCARED OF MOTHER-IN-LAW

Talea Decide Assistant District Attorney at Denver to Be Bachelor for Life.

Denver, Colo.—Too many stories about too much mother-in-law have made John Pine, deputy district attorney, decide to be a bachelor for life. For six months Pine has heard hardly anything else than long complaints from sons-in-law.

One youth told him of how when his wife was ill he asked her mother to assist in nursing her and at the end of the week she handed him a bill for $20 for professional services.

Now a second man has told the same story, only his mother-in-law charged $15 for the care she gave her daughter. That decided Pine.

Varying Value of Diamonds.

In regard to the relative value of diamonds of different colors, it may be said, generally, that the perfectly transparent, uncolored stones, which show no hues except those produced by refraction, stand at the head. Sometimes a tinted gem, if possessing extraordinary "fire," and of considerable size, may excel in value. The Russian crown, for instance, has a deep red diamond, which, because of its rarity, is very highly valued.

A man may become great by accident, but he never has genuine wisdom and goodness thrust upon him.

When you don't know what is the best to do, just wait a hit.

If you have a friend stick to him rather than stick him.

GOES BROKE ON HONEYMOON

Mishaps to Auto Put Bridal Pair in Financial Straits on Tour Through Iowa.

Muscataine, Ia.—To be owner of a large seven-passenger touring car, which was smashed upon a road on honeymoon, and yet be forced to apply to a welfare society for lodging for the night, would be embarrassing to most bridegrooms, but it didn't take any of the joy out of life for George Garrett of Elkhart, Ind., and his bride, who reached here en route to Seymour, Ia.

A series of mishaps drained Garrett's purse and upon his arrival here he was forced to "hock" his extra suit to buy gasoline and, with his wife, was boarded at a local hotel on the expense of a local charity body.

RUNS FARM WITHOUT HORSE

Wisconsin Man Demonstrates That This Is the Age of Power.

Marinette, Wis.—Eighty acres of land cleared and cultivated without a horse setting foot on the place is the record made by W. C. Wyckoff, a former Bloomington (Ill.) farmer, who located at Marinette in Marinette county, last year. His farm was entirely raw land in the spring of 1914.

Wyckoff says this is the age of power. He has an 11-ton tractor, and whether the task is clearing land, leveling, plowing, disking, harrowing or harvesting, the tractor furnishes the power. When he goes to town Wyckoff drives an auto.

CROCHET CRAZE SEIZES CITY

Needle Slips Keep Surgeons Busy Treating Injured Fingers at Princeton, Ind.

Princeton, Ind.—This city has for several weeks been in the throes of the crochet craze. Many women can hardly put down their crocheting long enough to get the meals and attend to the housework. Surgeons say that it is becoming serious.

Hardly a day passes but the surgeons have to treat from one to three women or girls who have jabbed the points of their needles into their fingers or hands. In many instances the broken pieces have to be cut out.

FINDS VIPER IN CUPBOARD

Indiana Farmer's Wife "Scared Out of Her Boots" by Reptile Coiled on Plates.

Bedford, Ind.—When Mrs. Ollie Marks, wife of a farmer near here, was setting supper a few evenings ago she reached into the china cupboard for a plate. She was almost "scared out of her boots," she said afterward, to find a spreading viper coiled on a pile of dishes.

As she did not wish snake for supper she screamed until her husband came and killed the reptile. The snake was 3 feet 6 inches long.

TURTLE 40 YEARS IN FIELD

Uncovered by a Kansas Farmer It Has Initials Carved on Its Shell in 1877.

Highland, Kan.—When L. B. Hills stacked his wheat this year he uncovered a turtle under one of the shocks that evidently has been a resident of that particular field for the last forty years at least. Fifteen years ago Hills found the same turtle in the same field and carved his initials and the date on its shell.

On this same turtle's shell are the initials of Hills' uncle, who carved them there with the date in 1877.

SIGNS OF DANGER

That Should Be Heeded By Maysville People.

There's serious danger in neglecting any weakness of the kidneys. The warning that Nature gives should not be overlooked. If troubled by too frequent passage of the kidney secretions; burning or scalding; if the secretions are highly colored and contain sediment when left standing—if you have headache, too, with frequent headaches and dizziness, make up your mind that your kidneys are affected and begin using some reliable kidney remedy. Deaths from kidney disease have increased in the United States alone, 72 per cent in the last 20 years. The risk is too great—you can't afford to delay. Maysville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you ask for better proof of merit than the statement of this Maysville resident?

W. F. Lynch, 127 West Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were weak and the passages of the kidney secretions were scanty and painful. Having used Doan's Kidney Pills before, I again got a box and they quickly restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lynch had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

COUPLE GUARDED BY TROOPS

Bride's Parents and Sheriff Are Surrounded During Wedding in Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala.—Surrounded by members of Company F, Second Regiment, Alabama National Guard, Miss Till Mae Thornton of Prattville, Ala., was married in that city to James Jennings of Tuscaloosa.

The girl's parents objected to the match and secured the co-operation of the Autauga county sheriff in the efforts to prevent it. The commander of the bridegroom, however, surrounded the parents and the sheriff in one part of town, while a justice married the young couple in the armory.

The militiamen were returning from an encampment at Montgomery. The parents will make no further protests.

BIG BROWN BEAR IS BAGGED

Nevada Stockmen While Out Hunting for Cattle Tree and Shoot 300-Pound Bruin.

Nevada City.—A 300-pound brown bear was killed by Albert Buck and Henry Dever, while hunting their stock in the vicinity of Moore's flat. The footprints of the bear had been seen for weeks. The dogs got the scent and soon had the animal treed. Buck took one shot and brought the bear to earth.

There have been several bears seen in the northern part of Nevada country, and they have been a menace to the stockmen.

Steals Farmer's Watch from Vest—Man Has Evidence to Prove His Story.

Sunbury, Pa.—Overheated while cutting wood on his farm at Kline's Grove, Charles R. Johnson hung his vest on a sapling. When he put on his vest his watch was missing.

Later Johnson found a big black snake and killed it. A suspicious for to prevent it. The commander of the bridegroom, however, surrounded the parents and the sheriff in one part of town, while a justice married the young couple in the armory.

DOLLS TO GET U. S. HEADS

Plant Established in Philadelphia for the Manufacture of Porcelain Doll Heads.

Washington.—The European war has brought a new industry to the United States—the manufacture of porcelain doll heads. Hitherto, Germany and other foreign countries have furnished the heads for American dolls. These importations, however, have been practically cut off since the war began.

The plant, according to information furnished the department of commerce, has been established in Philadelphia.

RICH WIDOW ADOPTS PASTOR

Young Preacher With Family Announces News From Pulpit at Ashland, Ore.

Ashland, Ore.—The Rev. Arthur R. Blackstone, pastor of the Baptist church here, has been adopted by a wealthy widow, Mrs. Aurelia E. Pence, who has made him her heir. His benefactress' estate is estimated at $100,000.

The minister retains the name of Blackstone. He is a young man with a family. To forestall criticism, he announced the news from his pulpit.

Owl Causes Auto Smash.

Peru, Ind.—Marion Dillman took a party of friends automobile and when near Chill an owl struck him in the face. Dillman let go of the steering wheel and the car ran down an embankment and against a fence. None of the occupants was hurt, but Dillman's face was scratched by the owl's claws.

FIXINGS FOR THE FIREPLACE

Worth Considering Now That Season of "Evening In's" is About Closing on Us.

Suitable andirons are not always easy to find, and frequently one sees a beautiful fireplace spoiled in appearance because it has been supplied with andirons and accessories out of proportion and of an inappropriate style.

Sometimes to a luxurious big living room is given a pair of little old-time andirons which do not exactly fit a cozy Colonial bedroom, while small fireplaces are often thoughtlessly furnished with huge, heavy, modern andirons.

Authorities on the subject say that brass is suitable for formal rooms, while the simpler apartments should have iron, perhaps tipped with brass knobs. In a spacious hall, where the fireplace is correspondingly large, the harsh look well if a heavy wrought iron grille with tall andirons to match is used.

For rooms done in a quaint old-time style of furnishing some of the reproductions of the Hessian designs of andirons painted in gay colors are good.

A complete set of fireplace furnishings may include an old brass fender with claw feet, a pair of steeple-topped andirons, shovel, tongs and heavy rings to hold them to the jamb of the fireplace. Such a set would fit well in a modern Colonial house.

Interior decorators say that a fireplace is not complete without a brass fender and cornucopia. The latter are on the style of the old-time bed warmers. Several extremely well appointed fireplaces, strictly suited to the quaint environment of the room, have the copper bed warmer and the copper fender hanging on the wall.

Brass kettles in odd design hanging on a crane, flat roasters of brass and the long adjustable haddled marshmallow forks are shown this fall.

Not New-Laid.
Some workmen on an ostrich farm in South Africa one day found a live shell left by some artillery men who had been at target practice on the plains a few days before. Not knowing it was loaded, they whitewashed it and placed it in an ostrich's nest, thinking to play a joke upon the host.

The next morning one of the hands, an Irishman, came around to look for eggs, and finding, as he thought, a large one, he seized on it at once.

In his astonishment at finding it so heavy he dropped it, with the result that it exploded with direful effect. Pat was hurled several yards away, but strangely enough, beyond lying stunned for a few minutes, he was unharmed.

"Whew! boy!" he murmured when he recovered his speech, "headed that egg was the steepest I ever knocked across!"

When procrastination is the thief of time he may be justified in taking time by the forelock.

ITEMS FROM ALL AROUND

Old Men's Dining.

(Casey County News.)

Tuesday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dink Wilkinson, in this city, Mr. John Grooms, aged 89, Captain Ed. Wilkinson, aged 87; Mr. Winston Bowman, aged 79, and Mr. Green Bell, aged 73, were invited and took dinner. They have always been friends since their young days and enjoyed themselves highly in talking of the past. Their combined ages were 328 years.

Ancient Building Torn Down.

(Harrisburg Herald.)

The old blacksmith shop which has stood on the corner of Main and Lexington streets for about a hundred years, is being torn down this week to make room for a modern garage and office building. It is one of the best corners in town and should the new government building be erected on the other corner, the improved appearance will be remarkable.

Penny Lunch a Success.

(Winchester Sun.)

The first attempt to give a penny lunch to the children of the Washington street school was made Monday. It was a success in every detail and is sure to become a daily feature in the school work. One hundred and sixty-five children were given their dinner, and the manner in which the kitchen committee handled the matter it only took a short time to serve them. Each child was given a hot bowl of soup, crackers and bread and preserves.

Huge Snakes.

(Wilmore Enterprise.)

Last Friday while Dr. J. R. Beck and Owen Trimble, of Shaker Bend, were hauling rock for the county road from an old field they unearthed a large constrictor snake fully six feet long. Owen Trimble at once grabbed it in hand by the tail, and, snatching it around his head, broke its neck. The same evening, Morris Gordon, while loading his wagon in the same field, was made to climb up on his wagon by a large blue racer over five feet long, which, after making the circuit of the wagon several times, finally made its escape in the cliffs nearby.

Why Should This Chance Be Taken?

(Lexington Leader.)

Why should a man driving an automobile on to a railroad track be dependent on his "impression" of what the train is going to do? Why should he take his own life and that of the persons under his care upon the correctness of that "impression"? Or again, if his view is obstructed, and he has no "impression" at all, why should he take it for granted that what he doesn't see doesn't exist? There is one simple rule, and only one, for the prevention of such disasters: By stopping his machine before crossing the track, the automobilist makes himself and his fellow-passenger absolutely safe; and the loss of time involved is so ridiculously small, and occurs so few times in the course of a ride, that none but a madman would deliberately say that to save that time was worth risking one's life.

BLOOD THE SEED OF DISEASE.

An eminent authority on nervous diseases has announced that the blood is the seat of all disease. How important, therefore, that it be kept in a pure, healthy condition. For this purpose our local druggist, the Peccor Drug Company, guarantees Vinol because it is a combination of the three most successful tonics known, iron, in its most soluble form of the medicinal extracts of fresh cod livers, without oil, and the nourishing properties of beef peptone. Can you imagine anything better?

Creamed Fish With Potato.

Mash and season potatoes and line bottom and sides of dish about one and one-half inches thick. Make a white sauce, add boiled salt fish broken in pieces and put the whole in the potato nest. Cover top with the potato and put finely chopped walnut meats and red pepper. Place a heap of tablespoonful of mayonnaise on top of each portion.

Cauliflower Salad.

Trim and boil one firm head of fresh cauliflower in fresh water until tender, but do not allow it to boil soft. Remove from the fire and drain. When cold slice thinly then allow to marinate one hour in highly seasoned French dressing. When ready to serve drain and lay on fresh lettuce leaves, sprinkle with finely chopped walnut meats and red pepper. Place a heap of tablespoonful of mayonnaise on top of each portion.

Grape Gelatin.

Use your favorite Jello or gelatin recipe with peeled and seeded California grapes. Use with or without other fruits. Delightful with grapes alone. This is not only a delicious, but a beautiful dish to serve during "grape season."

Avoid Vegetable Burning.

If you will place a pie plate upside down in the kettle you will avoid all burning of the potatoes or other vegetable, if you should happen to forget them and the water boil dry. Your vegetables will be on top of the pie plate and not scorched in the least.

Preacher's Narrow Escape.

(Harrisburg Record-Press.)

Rev. S. K. Hunt, wife and children, went for a walk Sunday afternoon. Crossing a field near town, Brother Hunt was struck at twice by a large copperhead snake coiled in the path. After a fight with the reptile it was killed. It measured two feet and a little over.

Found Gold Coin.

(Danville Messenger.)

While excavating for the foundation of a new store building on the site of the old hotel, which has just been removed to Perryville, Mr. Virgil Mayes unearthed a two-dollar-and-a-half gold piece. The coin was as bright as if lost yesterday. It bore the date of 1842.

Normal Price For Turkeys.

(Nicholas Advocate.)

Information is that, although the crop of turkeys is spotted, the aggregate supply will be near normal. In some sections there is a shortage, but extraordinary numbers in other localities counterbalance this wet-season effect. As a consequence it is forecast that prices at pens will be about the same as last year, the range being from 13 to 15 cents.

Cow Commits Suicide.

(Carrollton Democrat.)

Jack Dean lost a cow and a calf this week in a peculiar manner. He had been painting and had put an empty paint bucket in an outhouse. The cow and calf got to the bucket and licked it. It seemed to make them sick and Mr. Deek was called. That evening while giving them medicine the calf made a rush for the bank of the river and jumped over. Supposing it had killed itself, they waited until light to look it up. The next day they could not find the calf or any signs of what had become of it. The next evening while doctoring the cow, it got loose and rushed over the cliff. They took a lantern and went to see if it was killed, and got there just in time to see it make for the river and drown. It seemed like a clear case of suicide.

Almost Blown Up.

(Danville Advocate.)

John McGinniss, a well known citizen residing in the west end of the county, had a thrilling experience near town on the Perryville pike. He was riding horseback when suddenly a terrific explosion occurred, which shocked him severely and shot the horse he was riding about ten feet straight up into the air. Mr. McGinniss, who is a brave man, was greatly frightened at the shocking occurrence, but proceeded to make an investigation after regaining his wits. He found a dynamite cap which had been exploded. Continuing his investigation, he arrived at the conclusion that the cap had been lost by road workers who were engaged in the locality. It is apparent that a cap and a piece of dynamite dropped in close proximity to the truck and that when the horse's foot struck the cap it was exploded. Aside from the terrible shock, neither Mr. McGinniss nor his steed was injured.

FOOD WORTH MUCH STUDY

No Other Problem Can More Worthily Engage the Attention of the Mother on the Farm.

What could be a woman's problem on the farm that is not a woman's eternal problem everywhere and anywhere? Home economics or the selection, use and preparation of food, clothing, shelter and household management, and how can this problem, or any other problem, for that matter, be solved except through study or education? And yet so little has been thought of the home problems that more money is spent year by year for teaching the men how to fatten a steer or pig than for teaching the women how to care for her babe or feed her superior animals—the men of the family, writes M. E. Barrett of the Texas experiment station. Visit any farm you please and you will be shown the fine pigs and calves, goats or sheep, but never a word of the baby or its nursery. I've even seen the work of those three meals in quantity and make it come in quality, to take less time and more thought. Try a fireless cooker. Get a bulletin on balanced rations and menus from the university. Then, in the cool of the afternoon, prepare your vegetables and meats for next day's breakfast bring them to a boil and put in the hot rock and close up the dinner. This will save you from one to two hours on dinner which can be spent in further study on the subject of food values.

Return of the Progressives.

In all the States where elections were held the fact that the Progressives had returned to the Republican fold was manifested. There are, perhaps no voters who study politics more closely than the men who followed Theodore Roosevelt out into the political wilderness and there is no class of men, from their leaders down, who have been so thoroughly disgusted with the Democratic administration. The large majority of those who followed Mr. Roosevelt in 1912, did so, of course, with the hope of electing him President and with no purpose to inflict on the country a Democratic administration, by few of them appreciate how unfortunate

WASHINGTON LETTER FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.

ENT.

The results of the off-year elections are most gratifying to the Republicans, who see in them complete confirmation of their belief that 1916 will be marked by a general Republican landslide. Wherever the voters had an opportunity to express themselves, they proved that they were too intelligent to be deceived by the temporary prosperity which is resulting from huge war orders and that they keenly appreciate that there can be no safe and enduring prosperity until the machinery of government is once more in the hands of those who are sound on the tariff question and competent to handle the financial affairs of the nation. Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Ohio all demonstrated that the voters appreciate the importance of getting back on safe ground and afforded abundant reason for the high hopes which the Republican leaders are entertaining.

How To Wilson.

Perhaps the most significant—and to the Democrats the most surprising—result of the by-elections was the demonstration that Woodrow Wilson not only is not stronger than his party, but is even weaker. In the President's own State, New Jersey, only seven of the twenty-one counties went Democratic. In Massachusetts, where the popular slogan of the Democrats was "A vote for Walsh is a vote for Wilson," former Representative Samuel McCall defeated Walsh by a considerable majority. In the Twenty-third New York Congressional District the chief opponent of Ellsworth L. Healy, the Democratic candidate, was an ex-Senator from New York, who was elected by a handsome majority. The President and his son-in-law, Secretary McAdoo, made a strenuous effort to influence the elections in New York State, but the Republican gains up-State clearly indicate to all unprejudiced observers that New York's big electoral vote will be found in the Republican column next year. Three Republican Congressmen were elected in New York, elections being made necessary by the death of the incumbents. The Democrats have been contending, without any reason whatever, that President Wilson was stronger than his party. And this despite the fact that everything his party has done since he came into office has been at his direct and specific mandate, there never having been a time when Congress was so completely subordinated by the executive will. But in the light of the election returns, and recalling that in 1912 Mr. Wilson polled 2,000,000 less than a majority of the votes cast, the Democrats are sadly at sea and their blind faith in their leader has been badly shattered.

Gloom At The Whitehouse.

There is genuine gloom at the Whitehouse which, for the time being, at least, even the festivity attending the President's approaching marriage can not dispel. It has been realized by the President and his close advisers that he would experience great difficulty in controlling Congress during the coming session, but it was believed that substantial Democratic victories in the recent elections would materially strengthen his hands and that his friends would be able to urge upon recalcitrant Congressmen that, as Mr. Wilson was stronger than his party, they would be jeopardizing their own political welfare by opposing him, or any legislation he might propose. Now, however, this is materially changed and some new argument must be found if the growing spirit of insurrection in the Democratic ranks in Congress is to be crushed. Another blow to the President and to his chief adviser, Mr. McAdoo, is the defeat of Representative John J. Fitzgerald who ran for the New York Supreme Court. Mr. Fitzgerald, who is one of the frankest and ablest Democrats in the House, as well as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, has always been a thorn in the flesh to Mr. Wilson. Mr. Fitzgerald has not hesitated to castigate the present administration unmercifully for its extravagance in doling out the public funds, and he has been severe in his criticism of Mr. McAdoo's mismanagement of the Treasury Department. For these reasons his nomination for a judicial position was hailed with joy by the President and Mr. McAdoo and they did all in their power to promote his election, but without success.

would be the results if that should be the result of their break with the G. O. P. They realize now, however, to a very marked degree, and there is manifestly no danger whatever that they will repeat their mistake next year. They have, moreover, gained something in returning to the Republican party, for they have been cordially welcomed back and there is no doubt that the general trend of the Republican party will be more aggressive from now on, as a result of the loyal support it is receiving from its wild opponents. As has been pointed out in this correspondence, the Republicans in the Twenty-fourth Congressional District did not hesitate to name for Congress Dr. H. W. Temple, a former Progressive and a man of exceptional ability, and he has been elected.

Woman Suffrage.

The defeat of woman suffrage in New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania has served to confirm the views of those suffrage leaders who have feared that President Wilson's public declaration for suffrage, as a preliminary to his announcement of his marriage, would hurt rather than help "the cause." Leaders of the movement are undaunted by their defeat and announce that they will take up the fight again more than ever determined to win, but it is not likely that they will again incur the danger of Mr. Wilson's attempting to utilize their cause to promote his own popularity or to stem the tide of any unpopularity he may fear.

Wilson and the Red Cross.

President Wilson's action in suspending the work of the Red Cross in Mexico as a preliminary to the recognition of Carranza, and at a time when the ministrations of that humane institution were most sorely needed, is severely, if conservatively, condemned in the latest issue of the official Red Cross magazine. The only criticism to be drawn from Mr. Wilson's action, which occurred the day before Carranza was recognized, is that he feared to have the truthful and impartial reports of the Red Cross agents reach the people of this country. Consequently, on October 8th, the President caused Secretary Lansing to request the Red Cross to cease its work and withdraw its agents, when, as the Red Cross magazine says, "At this time, just as was the case a month previous, many deaths were occurring daily from starvation and the country as a whole was in a pitiable plight, economically and industrially. General Carranza's assurances that the situation will be cared for, therefore, have not wholly dispelled the feeling of sincere regret on the part of the American Red Cross over relinquishing its part of the relief work. It is hard, for instance, to leave a locality where many thousands of families, mothers and babies predominating, have been absolutely dependent for sustenance upon small portions of nourishing soup which we have daily distributed. Half-famished mothers, with skeleton babies at their breasts, have besought the Red Cross agents in the name of all that is holy to do something for their babies, to save them if they could not save the mothers—and there have been many formerly well-to-do persons, not the poor class, who have been among the pitiable petitioners for Red Cross aid." With the Red Cross agents away and only newspapermen, press censorship, in the face of Carranza's strict press censorship, are powerless to report facts, anarchy and chaos may continue to reign supreme in Mexico without any exposure which would be embarrassing to the Wilson administration.

THE REAL FORCE OF COLOR

In the Furnishing of a Room It Frequently Will Be Found to Affect the Mental State.

When it comes to using color in the rooms of your house or apartment there should be nothing careless or haphazard in your method. For directly and indirectly, the result achieved is going to have considerable effect on the mental state of all who live in those rooms. Color is not an accident, but a real force in life. When you remember that the virulence of an attack of smallpox is greatly relieved by keeping the patient in a room, while a person suffering from nervous breakdown would probably be driven crazy by the same treatment, and also that skin diseases are more irritated by coming into contact with blue or violet shades of light, you will realize that the importance of color is not sufficiently understood in most homes. Besides the laws of harmony in color, there are other interesting points to consider when determining the decoration of your rooms.

For instance, red and yellow are what are called advancing colors.

The use of them tends to diminish the apparent size of a room, while blue is a receding color, and gives a sense of space. Green, being equal parts of blue and yellow, is neutral, and so is violet, made of red and blue.

If the burden seems heavy, the way is thus long. But lift your heart in a bit of song. And that heart will lighter grow. And one who follows, unseen by you, May catch the strain and his strength renew. In the courage you bestow.

FOOD FOR THE YOUNG CHILD.

There is great need that mothers study the feeding of the baby, as statistics tell us that a large proportion of little people die with no chance to fight their own way before they are two years old. To introduce solid foods into the diet of a child is a change worthy of thoughtful consideration. Children should be fed according to their weight, age and development. Solid foods should be introduced gradually after one year of age in a normal baby.

A cereal well cooked, an egg cooked and mixed with bread crumbs or milk, or gruel, making one meal a day. See that the baby feeds slowly and masticates well. Habits of right eating may be formed now which will go with him through life. Fresh bread should never be given. Cut in squares and baked until brown, then served in milk is a good dish and one children like. Add a pinch of salt but no sugar to such dishes. Milk and cream should be used plentifully.

An hour before or an hour after feeding a tablespoonful or two of orange juice, pineapple juice, strained apple sauce or mashed pulp of prunes may be given.

Vegetables are now a necessity. Potatoes thoroughly baked, and served with butter or cream. Asparagus tips, spinach and carrots crushed fine and well seasoned with salt and butter.

Only one vegetable daily until the age of two is reached. Meats should be given but sparingly; a tablespoonful of scraped raw beef may be mixed with the baby's potato or a bit of beef steak may be put on it. Up to three years but little meat is given, and it should always be finely cut.

Broths of mutton, chicken or beef with rice or stale crumens, or beef juice may be given, five ounces at a meal; beef juice being more concentrated, three ounces is sufficient.

Cereals of oatmeal, farina, barley, hominy, rice or cracked wheat, four ounces, but it should be long and well cooked. Serve with a pinch of salt and plenty of milk and cream.

NURSERYMEN.

Tuesday we had the pleasure of inspecting the nursery of J. J. Murphy & Company, on Forest avenue and Walnut streets.

It is arranged systematically and any one can easily determine the different varieties of trees at a glance. You first see the shade and ornamental trees. These are of an excellent size and style, branching at a good height from the ground and are clean and straight. In the next row I had peach trees of all the different varieties suited to our climate on you have the cherry. Here is the farm demonstrator should be his school children to study the wiring and formation of the tree, so could be able to tell the tree with the fruit. While all cherries look alike to the layman, it did not M. J. Murphy long to show him difference. Back of the cherry are marked in their differences as variety.

The nursery has a standing offer of $1 a tree for a dead tree found stock. Murphy has been coming to the nursery since it was founded by "Tree Man," and his nursery and his partners buy the round. For a pleasant and an active hour in fruit-tree culture, not know of a better place than the nursery on the northeast corner of Forest avenue and Walnut street.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist church will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. James H. Hall, on East Second street. MRS. GROWINGER, Sec.

GOOD SPEAKERS

For Chamber of Commerce Rally Meeting Tonight.

The principal speakers at the Chamber of Commerce rally meeting which will be held at the City Council Chamber at 7:30 o'clock tonight, will be H. W. McKeand, of Indianapolis, Ind., and Thomas P. Boone, of Johnson City, Tenn. Mr. McKeand has been associated with some of the most successful Chambers of Commerce of the country for the last fifteen years and is acknowledged as an expert on planning of such organizations. Mr. Boone has for some time been the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce at Jackson City, Tenn. He will be identified with the work of organizing the new Chamber of Commerce of Maysville.

This is the last public meeting to be held for the campaign to organize a strong, well-financed commercial-clinic body for our city.

The various canvassing teams, eight in all, six members to the team, each headed by a captain and the entire force of forty-eight commanded by General Louis Merz and Mike Brown, will make the first attack tomorrow morning. The assembly call will hold at 9 a. m., when the skirmish squads will meet at headquarters for final instruction, prior to opening the engagement at 10 a. m. The detachments will cease firing at noon and assemble for luncheon to report the number of captures made. The campaign will proceed for four days, Thursday and Friday and the following Monday and Tuesday, by which time it is hoped that at least 400 members and over $5,000 a year will have been secured for the Chamber of Commerce.

From the educational campaign that has been so vigorously conducted, every citizen of Maysville should by now understand the great possibilities for our city, commercially, industrially and civically, through a strong, well-financed Chamber of Commerce. One which will employ an experienced secretary-manager who will devote his entire time and thought to the work. The movement is not one of experiment. It is based on sound, business-like plans, the same that have proven successful in such organization work in hundreds of cities, many of them smaller than Maysville. The only essential now for the thorough success of the movement is the support of the business and professional men and the citizens generally of Maysville.

That the necessary membership will be secured is evidenced by the great interest taken in the movement and the enthusiasm prevailing among the fifty business men who start the canvass for members tomorrow morning. Don't hang back. Don't delay the team workers. Come across promptly when they call on you. Remember, they are taking valuable time from their own business to push the movement. "Do It For Maysville."

AYAUNT, YE CROAKERS!

Once on the sledge of a pleasant pool, Under the bank where 'twas dark and cool, Where bushes over the water hung And rushes nodded and grasses swung, Just where the creek flowed under the log, There lived a grumpy and mean old frog.

Who'd set all day in the mud and soak And just do nothing but croak and croak. "Till a blackbird hollered, 'I say, yer know, What is the matter down there below? Are you in trouble, or pain, or what?' The frog croak: 'Mine is an awful lot; Nothin' but mud and dirt and slime. Fer me ter look at just all the time; It's a dirty world,' so the old fool spoke."

"Croakity-croakity, croakity, croak." "But yer lookin' DOWN!" the blackbird said. "Look at the blossoms overhead, Look at the lovely summer skies, Look at the bees and butterflies; Look UP, old feller. Why, bless your soul, Yer lookin' down in a muskrat hole!" But still with a gurgling sob and choke The blame old critter would only croak. And a wise old turtle, who boarded near, Sez to the blackbird: "Friend, see here; Don't shed no tears over him, fer he is low-down, jest 'cause he likes ter be; He's one er them kind er clumps that's his glad. Ter be so mis-rable-like and sad, I'll tell yer somethin' that ain't no joke, Don't waste yer sorrow on folks that croak."

—New Age.

Don't croak, but boost. "Do it for Maysville."

BAPTISTS, TAKE NOTICE.

The committee has requested us to announce that the pig has been purchased, killed, dressed and is ready for the big roast which will take place tonight.

As further arrangement for the entertainment of the crowd an orchestra has been engaged and will be on hand to furnish music to enliven the occasion and put all in good humor for the humorous speeches and feast. Do not forget that this is to be a "tacky" party and all persons who come "dressed up" will be fined. A handsome prize has been secured for the "tackiest" person present, which will be awarded by the master of ceremonies in the most impressive and appropriate style.

The committee further urges all to be present on time, 7 o'clock. Do not fail to secure your ticket, which is free, for, if you have no ticket you get no pig. Many other eatable have been ordered and there will be a general good time as well as the big feast to reward you for your presence.

W. J. M.

Gives His Views On Matters Political —He Arraigns Stanley's Recent Campaign.

Cleveland, O., November 7, 1915. Editor Daily Public Ledger:

The election is over, the official vote of the various States will soon be known; in the meantime politicians are speculating as to what effect the recent election will have in shaping political affairs in 1916.

That there were many surprises as well as many disappointments, is one thing in politics that can always be looked for, but at the same time, elections often show the way the political wind is blowing and the trend of public opinion. The rejection of the constitution in New York as drawn by Root, Baruch and Murphy has eliminated Mr. Root as a Presidential possibility in 1916, or this at least seems to be the consensus of opinion at this time, and Mr. Burton's friends of the Buckeye State are quietly rejoicing over this generally expressed opinion. In the meantime the tiger of Tammany roams New York with the freedom of his native jungle, seeking his prey with cautious tread and he don't care a cuss whom he eats, for his provender is supplied by all political and religious creeds he can prey upon.

In the election of Massachusetts and Pennsylvania the Republicans see the rainbow of promise, while the Democrats see only local conditions that caused the landslide in those States. However, the conservative element of both old parties see an issue rising up with an intelligent, powerful influence and a power that demands recognition of all parties whether they be old or new parties.

That equal suffrage is daily gaining headway, that it is sweeping forward like a mighty tidal wave no one can for a moment doubt who has watched its rapid progress in the last few years.

The defeat of equal suffrage in New Jersey and the disreputable methods employed to defeat it, will only set as an incentive to greater efforts on the part of the friends of this just cause. And every effort the Liquor Dealers' Association makes to defeat equal suffrage, is only driving a nail in their own coffin.

Ten years ago equal suffrage in New York could not have gotten 10,000 votes, and while the measure was lost probably by 100,000 votes, yet it was a glorious defeat, for out of the smoke of battle the women of the Empire State set multiplied thousands of honest votes lined up ready to renew the battle at any time. Tammany Hall, speaking through its leader says: "We have saved the dear women of New York from themselves." If the devil was to attend a Methodist camp-meeting and say let us all pray, his Sanctified Majesty would hardly equal the astounding hypocrisy of Tammany's leader.

That organization has been the curse of honest Democracy; it has been the curse to honest Republicanism; it has been the life of honest government, plunder, pillage and its traitorous betrayal of the people, regardless of political affiliations. This is why the vampire arrayed itself against equal suffrage. It feared the purity of the woman voter.

In the Keystone State equal suffrage was defeated by less than 50,000 votes. This is conceded even by those who opposed the suffrage amendment to be a wonderful showing. It also clearly demonstrates two things, the equal suffrage is no longer confined to the West, and that equal suffrage can no longer be ignored; that it is a living issue and the party that ignores it is likely to meet a Waterloo.

Perhaps no State election has ever received wider comment than has the recent election in Ohio, and the State administration has come in for a full share of censure, from both Republicans and Democrats. From the day that Governor Willis marched in the dry parade at Freemont, O., when a candidate, and swore allegiance to the drys, he has been as hard to put your finger on as the Irishman's flea, and some of his most ardent supporters at that time are very luke-warm now. The Governor's aspirations to supplant Burton and pull the Presidential delegation of 1916 for his own plum seems to be pretty well soaked into the minds of his once warm supporters, and the opinion is that the Governor's chances to create a Presidential boom is growing smaller by degrees and beautifully less.

The defeat of the stability amendment in this State was nothing more or less than a crushing defeat of the Liquor Dealers' Association. While it is true that certain big interest would have been rejoiced to see the initiative and referendum destroyed, yet the brewers, distillers and the saloons brought all their powerful political machinery into action to destroy the efficiency of the I. & R., and was assisted by a class who had never displayed any real interest in the great masses of the working people. The initiative and referendum is conceded to be the one best weapon of defense of the working man. The liquor element has always posed as the honest and best friend of the workingman, but when the opportunity presented itself, and they saw their chance in the stability amendment to disfranchise the people for six years in order that prohibition might be defeated, then the Judas Iscariot hand was unloosed, the mask was torn off and the working man saw in all its hideous hypocrisy their betrayers. In the State of Ohio in 1911 prohibition was defeated by 85,000; in 1915 it was defeated only by 50,000. Out of seventy-two counties of the State only thirteen voted wet, and when the official vote is counted there will probably be less than twelve counties of the State wet. Cincinnati, Dayton and Cleveland were the chief factors in destroying the county unit law of Ohio and it is in these cities where the stability amendment received its strongest support. These facts are eye-openers to the workingman and if the liquor element makes good their boast to again present the stability amendment in 1916, they will meet their final defeat. Prohibition will sweep the State.

This morning's mail brought us some Maysville papers, the first news we have had from the city and county election. We were quite sure before we left Maysville in October that all the candidates for the various offices could not be elected, yet every candidate told us he was sure to win. However, we trust that Maysville has made a wise selection in choosing her Councilmen and that their chief aim will be to make Maysville a more progressive and better Maysville. This can only be done by laying down all animosity and a concerted effort on the part of citizens and officials to look only to the welfare and progress of the city.

Many promises have been made for a better Maysville; let us have it. The State election in Kentucky is causing much comment outside of the Bluegrass State, and if all reports are true, the Democrat cock of Kentucky has had his gorgeous plumage badly ruffled. If one believes the reports current in the Cleveland Dealer, the Cincinnati Enquirer and other papers, one more bit of the Republican gaff would have deprived the proud bird of every tail feather. Today's Enquirer has an article explaining the cause for such an overwhelming Republican vote in Kentucky. It also points out the mistake the Democratic party made inousting National Committeeman Urey Woodson and State Chairman Van Sant. Under the management of Chairman Van Sant the Democratic party won the most notable victory the party ever won in the State, in the election of Governor McCreary.

Why remove such a capable chairman? Did they doubt his loyalty to the party? It is not conceivable that they could entertain such doubts. Then there must have been some other reason for Van Sant's removal, be that as it may. Mr. Stanley has proved himself a poor leader and his own vacillating policy on the county unit bill lost him many votes. Mr. Stanley was well known to be bitterly opposed to the county unit bill one year ago. If the county unit bill was wrong then it is wrong now, but some "invisible power" converted him of the error of his way and he became converted to the county unit bill. The scales were knocked from his eyes as quickly as they were from the eyes of Saul when on his way to Damascus, and he preached the county unit bill with all the zeal and fervor that Saul preached the Gospel. Not only this, but his preaching resulted in converts and he gathered into the fold, with but a few exceptions, every brewer, distiller, saloonist and opponent of the county unit bill. Can such radical changes be wrought in such a short time without the expense of a Divine miracle?

The voters of Kentucky thought not and were not willing that the Democratic party should be used as a tool of the liquor interests. There is loud whispering that Van Sant was not loyal, that Woodson was not loyal, that McDermott's friends used the knife. All this may or may not be true, but one thing stands out clearly, that the friends of the county unit bill are leary about consorting with the new converts, especially when those converts come from the ranks of the liquor element.

The official count will possibly give Mr. Stanley the Governorship, but there is no victory in it for the Democrats of Kentucky. He may accuse certain leaders of disloyalty, but he must remember that Mr. Stanley is accused of fomenting religious prejudice against one of his opponents in the primary. The fact remains that one of the big mistakes of the party was to give Mr. Stanley the nomination. The Republican here and elsewhere are rejoicing over the poor showing made by Mr. Stanley in the State and are placing Kentucky in the list of doubtful States in 1916. "Can this prophecy be true? If so, who then, will the blame rest upon? Surely not on Woodson, Van Sant and McDermott.

If Kentucky Democracy wants to win let it divorce itself from the dominating control of the liquor elements of the State. W. H. M.

LARGE FUND

Set Aside To Further County Agent Activities In Kentucky.

More than half of the funds available in Kentucky during the fiscal year of 1915-16 for co-operative agricultural extension are to be used to further county agent activities, according to figures of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Of $121,888 available in Kentucky from Federal, State and local contributions, $89,527 is to be used in the work of the county demonstration agents. The next largest item on Kentucky's calendar of distribution is $22,717 for home economics or home demonstration work for farm girls. While club work receives a large share, it is subdivided into several departments.

Kentucky takes high rank in co-operative agricultural extension this year, and the Southern States lead all other sections in funds appropriated for this purpose.

The total amount set aside in the United States this year is $4,782,000, of which $1,080,000 is from Federal Smith-Lever funds, $925,000 from appropriations of the Department of Agriculture for farmers' co-operative demonstration work and $110,000 from other bureaus of the department. These amounts make a total from Federal sources of $2,115,000.

Of the amounts contributed from sources within the States, $600,000 is from State Smith-Lever funds, made up mainly of district appropriations of the State Legislature. In addition to funds used under the Smith-Lever act $628,000 is appropriated by the State Legislature for extension work, $225,000 by colleges from funds under their immediate control, $321,000 by county authorities and $292,000 from miscellaneous sources.

Of the total funds $2,497,425 will be applied to activities of the county agents, while the share for home economics is $542,732. Movable schools receive $218,001 and boys' club work, which in some States includes girls' club work, $235,917. More than $100,000 is to be devoted to publications issued in connection and as part of the work.

How Kentucky's share of the fund is to be expended is stated to be as follows:

Administration	$ 8,344
Publications	1,700
County agents	69,527
Home demonstrations	22,717
Movable schools	530
Boys' club work	2,880
Pig clubs	2,520
Poultry clubs	2,220
Livestock	3,220
Poultry	2,220
Dairying	1,790
Argonomy	950
Horticulture	2,720
Rural organization	750
Total	$121,888
